App Spotlight: Educreations!

What is it?

Educreations makes your iPad a recordable white board. You can draw, insert pictures, record your voice, and save your finished product.

How could I use it?

You can record lessons for your students and save them for review later. Students can watch recorded lessons online for homework or review. Send the link to parents to help them understand the processes as well!

How can students use it?

Students can showcase knowledge using Educreations. Have them create endings to stories, solve math equations, explain pictures/events, describe processes, or teach others how to solve problems or find solutions.

Upcoming Staff Development Sessions After School

We will model a technology lesson that you can use in your class. Come to one or come to all!
